

Daniel R. York

Dan is a licensed California attorney with offices in Fullerton. He has practiced law for almost 36 years practicing in the state courts of California, as well as the U.S. Federal District Court for the Central District of California. He holds a bachelor's degree in History from the University of California, Berkeley and a Juris Doctor degree from Western State University College of Law. Dan is a proud member of organizations that advocate for elders including the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (NAELA). He also belongs to the Trusts & Estates Section of the California State Bar. For the past 12 years Dan has chaired the North Orange County Senior Collaborative, a service group committed to identifying and addressing the unmet needs of seniors and their support systems in the north county area. He is a frequent guest lecturer on long-term care, incapacity, and estate planning. His work includes professional assistance to senior groups as well as persons with developmental and physical disabilities. He welcomes new opportunities to serve such groups.

NOTICE: Legal information in this presentation and packet is for general informational purposes only. The information in this presentation and printed materials do not constitute and should not be relied upon as legal advice or legal opinion on a particular situation. You should seek legal counsel on your personal legal needs.